Watch the Little Pimples; They Are Nature's Warning

Unsightly and Disfiguring Signs of Bad Blood.

Don't close your eyes to the warning which nature gives, when unsightly pimples appear on your face and other parts of the body.

Not only are these pimples and blotches disfiguring, but they lead to serious skin diseases that spread and cause the most discomforting irritation and pain. Sometimes they foretell Eczema, boils, blisters, scaly eruptions and other annoyances that burn like flames of fire, and make you feel that your skin is ablaze.

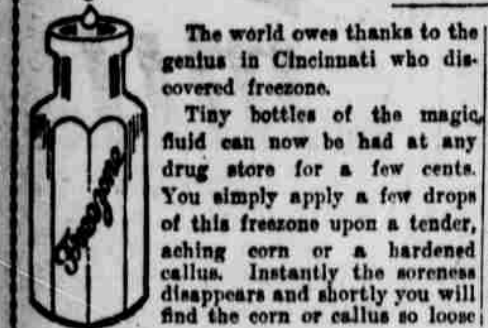

When these symptoms appear on any part of the body, take prompt steps to rid the blood of these disorders. And the one remedy which has no equal as a purifier is S. S. S., the purely vegetable blood medicine, which has been on the market for more than fifty years. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

If you are afflicted with any form of skin disease, do not expect to be cured by lotions, ointments, salves and other local remedies, as they can not possibly reach the source of the trouble, which is in the blood. Begin taking S. S. S. today, and write a complete history of your case to our chief medical advisor, who will give you special instructions, without charge. Women! Keep It On Dresser! Never Let Corns Ache Twice Instantly! Few drops stop corn-soreness, then corns and calluses shrivel, loosen and lift out with fingers—No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered freezone.

Tiny bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

You simply apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shriveled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of foot without any pain. Ladies! Keep it on the dresser.

"CUSS WORD" NOW AND THEN FITS THE CASE

Senator Cummings Tells of Attitude of Preacher Whom He Met in Recent Campaign.

Senator W. H. Cummings and Hon. Frank Carden have returned from Richard City, where they went to make liberty loan speeches. The speakers were greeted by an audience of over 500 and both say that enthusiasm in that section is at its highest. Senator Cummings during the past ten days or two weeks has spoken to over 5,000 people throughout the state and he states that at every place he has visited he has been greeted with large crowds. At Woodbury, Cannon county, the home county of the senator, he spoke to over 400 people. He was accompanied on this trip by Judge Nathan L. Bachman, who was also a speaker. At Lynchburg Senator Cummings spoke to over 500, at Dunlap over 500, at Dayton over 600, at Newbury about 300, and at Richard City over 500. He will make a short talk Sunday morning at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Senator Cummings on his way to Lynchburg rode over with a crowd of Fayetteville people and they were so impressed with the eloquent address made by him at Lynchburg that they have written W. G. M. Thomas, chairman headquarters committee, and asked especially that Senator Cummings be sent to Fayetteville on April 6. He stated that he had never seen such enthusiasm all over the state, that the people were thoroughly "awake" to this great conflict. "In one place," said Senator Cummings, "a minister of the gospel addressed an audience and in a brilliant argument he told of war conditions and how the people at home could win the war as well as the boys in France, and at the end he said, 'let's get together and whip 'em out of the Dutch!' After the speaking I was told," said the senator, "that the minister was one of the best and most beloved men in his section, and was never heard to even use the slightest word suggestive of profanity until recently, when he awoke to the seriousness of the war and he said that a cuss word now and then was the only thing that fitted the kaiser and his gang."

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT MAY WIN $50 FOR ESSAY

William M. Lewis Speaks at Pilgrim Church April 5 on Liberty Loan.

William Mather Lewis, of Washington, who is to address the liberty loan meeting in Chattanooga on Friday night at the Pilgrim Congregational church, is executive secretary of the National Committee of Patriotic Societies. This committee acts as a clearing house between forty-five national organizations and the government. Among the organizations represented are the Boy Scouts, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the National Security League, the National League for Woman's Service and the American Defense Society. The total membership of the societies represented in the national committee is 2,500,000.

The national committee is offering a fifty-dollar bond to that high school student who will write the best essay on "Winning the War With Liberty Bonds." It is expected that many high school students in Chattanooga will take part in this contest. The national committee is also directing a vigorous campaign against malicious rumors, and other spoken German propaganda throughout the United States.

Mr. Lewis has lived in Germany and Russia, and his intimate knowledge of the inside situation in those countries makes his address particularly interesting. He comes to Chattanooga from an extensive speaking tour through Ohio and Pennsylvania, where he has addressed large audiences on the liberty loan.

SUIT TO RECOVER FOR DEATH OF HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Annie James Asks Judgment for $20,000 Against Southern Railroad.

Through her attorneys, L. D. Miller and J. C. Farria, Annie James entered suit Thursday in the circuit court against the Southern railway for $20,000 damages for the alleged negligent killing of her husband, Charles H. James. The suit is the result of an accident which happened last year on Rossville avenue, when a southern engine is alleged to have run into an automobile in which the deceased was a passenger with two other persons, completely wrecking the automobile and seriously injuring all three of the occupants. The deceased is said to have been in some manner caught by the engine and dragged by the feet with his head on the ground for a distance of 300 or 400 feet before he was released. The deceased lived several weeks after the accident and finally died.

MISS RANKIN FIRST TO SECURE CASUALTY LIST

(Special to The News.) Knoxville, April 5.—Congresswoman Jeanette Rankin was the first to write a personal letter to the families of the boys whose lives were lost on the Tuscany, according to Miss Mildred Wallace, Knoxville girl who is private secretary to Miss Rankin.

"When the Tuscany was submerged," says Congresswoman Rankin's private secretary, who is visiting here, "Miss Rankin was the first to secure a list of casualties from the war office and was the first to write a personal letter to the families of the boys whose lives were lost."

Miss Rankin's activities among the soldiers who are stationed at the various camps in and around Washington is particularly democratic and inspiring. She is often asked to speak to the boys on some subject of vital interest, and when she has finished speaking she asks her secretaries, whom she always takes with her, to get the names of as many of the boys as is possible, and when she returns to her office she writes to their mothers and tells them that she has seen their sons and that they are well and happy, or what can be done to make them more happy in case they are homesick.

The principal camps where Miss Rankin is a speaker are Fort Myer, at Washington; Camp American University, and Camp Quantico, in Virginia. Here are stationed several Tennessee boys, and Miss Wallace spoke of having seen Graham Vowell, who will be remembered throughout the south as the famous University of Tennessee football star, star on the all-south team and on one of the all-American teams.

"Just because Miss Rankin is a woman congressman is no sign that she is any kind of prodigy or that she is not as delightful as any other woman," says her private secretary.

"A daily mail of about 200 letters is the usual program and the surprising thing is that these letters are answered. That is startling when you consider how few of the representatives and senators do answer their mail. The Knoxville girl has charge of Miss Rankin's out-of-the-state mail.

"There is a doubt if Miss Rankin has an equal or even a very formidable rival in the matter of being a champion hand-shaker. She is besieged on all sides by people who are 'going through' Washington and who want to be able to go home and say that they not only saw the lady from Montana, but that they shook hands with her. Her speeches in the house are also another point of interest in capital happenings. When she speaks there is an attention from the members of the house and even cases of intelligent voting for measures. It is the usual rule in the house that the speaker is regarded as a necessary evil and not to be listened to if it can be avoided. This is not the case at all during the period when she is speaking." When asked if the men made it harder for her just because she was a woman and not used to that kind of a position, which is unique in the history of the nation, Miss Wallace said that the men tried to help her instead of hinder her work.

SOLICITING BOOKS FOR YOUTHS OF BONNY OAKS

William Brooks, a well-known colored citizen, is endeavoring to get good books and papers for the colored boys' department at Bonny Oaks Industrial school. He says that good reading will place the minds of the boys upon better things for life's services and help them to make loyal and industrious citizens. He further says that the colored youths at Bonny Oaks are making progress in their studies and their deportment is good.
